MONUMENTAL SCULPTURE EXHIBIT BY Edgardo Carmona

Downtown Fort Myers, Florida

About the Artist

Edgardo Carmona develops “likable characters that make Cartagena, Colombia, what it is” from multiple parts or structural elements. Since 2003, his artwork has been exhibited in South America, Germany and most recently in an 18-city tour of Europe, including Paris. Many of his works are on permanent display around the world. Edgardo was born in Cartagena, and studied mechanical engineering, business administration, fine arts, painting and sculpture.

Dúo Sinfónico

Carmona creates a moment in which a flutist and his beautiful tunes attract a chirping bird to sing in duo with him.

Caracol

With minimalist intensity, the artist captures the mysterious beauty that sleeps below the snail's hard shell.

City Hall Back Plaza, Broadway St.

Triálogo

Object, subject, animal, gestures, and movement create one single moment in this sculptural display.

Cadencia

One single sculptural masterpiece brought to life by two units come together like an African myth.

Mambeo

"El Mamo," recognized as the leader of the indigenous Kogui community in Santa Marta's Sierra Nevada, is brought to life.

Lee County Administration Building Second St. and Broadway St.

Territorio

Two parallel scenes: Irony of the dog "marking his territory" the same way the man does by leaning against the light pole.

Main St. and Hendry St.

Al Galope

A study of intensity and restriction: While the horse is standing still, it is both awake and eager to gallop.

Cornog Plaza, Fort Myers Regional Library

Al Filo

Carmona brings to life and rescues from the forgotten the memory of the old knife-sharpener's job.

Cornog Plaza, Fort Myers Regional Library

Juego de Ajedrez

This piece portrays the containment of the opponents as they sit face to face across the board.

First St. and Jackson St.

Negación a Baco

Re-creates the conflicts of those who have drunk too much as they sit in park benches and one refuses to take another drink.

First St. across from Sidney & Berne Davis Art Center

Melómano

A music lover's excitement and curiosity creates a sense of mystery and allure as to what could be so magical in the song.

First St. at the Arcade Theatre

Faena En La Plaza

A juggler sitting atop his unicycle with his rings ready for action, while the wind tests his balance.

First St. and Hendry St.

Juego de Dominó

Domino players are an emblematic part of tradition and life in the Caribbean and Antilles.

First St. at the Patio de Leon

El vendedor de raspao
The snow cone street vendor is an iconic character found in the landscape of Cartagena de Indias. First St. and Dean St.

Nostalgia de cuerdas
The artist discovers that the figurative can be reinvented with silence and space. Downtown River Basin

Vendedora de frutas
One of the most emblematic characters of Cartagena de Indias is the palenquera a female fruit seller of San Basilio de Palenque. First St. at Monroe St.

Don Quijote
A tribute to the character Don Quixote incarnates: the utopian spirit of following one's own dreams. Greater Fort Myers Chamber of Commerce, Edwards Dr. at Lee St.

Apareo
Resembling a symphony, this sophisticated piece re-creates the act of mating. Monroe St. at Harborside Event Center

Utopía
Carmona brings a new ending of triumph and happiness to the character in the story of Simon El Bobito by Rafael Pombo. Downtown River Basin

10.0
Balance, movement, and internal and external strengths come together to find a sublime moment. Downtown River Basin, Bay St. and Hendry St.

Sintonía
A moment where time sits still and nothing else matters, depicting the nostalgia of passing time. Downtown River Basin

Deshove
The release of fish eggs is defined as a large circle and its process in the form of curves re-creating a moment of fertilization. Downtown River Basin

Brisas
The artist takes advantage of the main character – wind – to add movement and test the woman's balance. Hendry St. at Allure Sales Gallery

Anguila
This sculpture is all about capturing the subtlety in the eel's movement. Downtown River Basin
